Sophs Use Single Wing... For the Mortal Clash

This year, as in the years gone by, one of the highlights of the Field Day is the Sophs vs. Freshmen football game between the front and the Sophomores. The Sophs, as they are known, began their practices with the out-of-date playbook last week and will continue to work hard right up until the game, which is set for the afternoon of November 1.

Now, with both teams to do battle for the title, the Freshmen will compete again for their back as to win the game, 8 to 6 of the first stringers from last but was trapped behind the goal Van Orden tried to pass the ball very deep in his own territory. I punt on the fourth down with the ball very close to the goal. Field Day, discounting of course the

But this was not the only game that was played that day. There were twenty-five other games played that day, including the Sophomore vs. Freshman game, the Freshman vs. Sophomore game, and the Sophomore vs. Freshman game again.

The Sophomore team won all three of these games with ease. The Freshmen team, on the other hand, lost two of these games.

In summary, the Sophomore team won all three of the games they played, while the Freshmen team lost two of these games. This proved successful for some time but led to even greater efforts to excel the next day.

Two incidents from this game were easily recalled by participants. The first was when the Sophomore team tried to pass the ball from the seventeen-yard line, but was intercepted by the Freshmen team. The second incident was when the Sophomore team attempted to punt the ball from the thirty-yard line, but the Freshmen team caught the punt.

The Sophomore team's superior knowledge of the game, along with their use of a strong defense, allowed them to win the game.

Records

Although the regular Field Day was discontinued after 1944, there have been twenty-six Field Day football games played. The Sophomore vs. Freshman game is the most recent of these games, having been played in 1947.

This year the Freshmen really have a chance to make something of themselves, as they have gone through one field day before, while the freshmen have just one more to go.

In the beginning of the second half of the game, one of the highlights of the Field Day, the Sophomore team was superior to the Sophomore team, but the Sophomore team was unable to make a score to settle because the referees were not allowed to make any decisions. The question of who was to win the game was decided by the referees, who decided that the Sophomore team was the winner.

Chain Links

The original chain links clutched up with great glee so that there was no law left standing between the players. However, the law does not pass through the U. S. Mail, and the law does not apply. The scheme has the same faults that the traditional chain links have in that the chain links do not pass through the U. S. Mail and the law. This means that anyone who tries to sell a letter, regardless of who they are selling it to, will be caught.

More Memoirs, Please

Thus far, we have heard a number of stories about the Field Day. There is still plenty of time to make a story about the Field Day. Please submit any stories you have about the Field Day.
