Fall is in the air, and pulses quicken as the nation's college students return to campuses humming with activity, to familiar faces, scenes and activities.

The Scene Changes...

Just around the corner from such hallowed, ivy-covered campus scenes as the one above, Syracuse University students encounter this vista — prefabs and "Boontown Byzantine" architecture mushrooming on every available foot of ground to provide adequate classroom space.

Students at Georgia Tech will see this eight-story student apartment building nearing completion. Heated half by radiant and half by convector heating systems, the building will give engineers their first opportunity to study differences between the two systems.
