Letters to the Editor

Sir,

I wish to take this opportunity to express my concern about the recent development of the "Techsapoppin," which appears to be a serious flaw in the administration of the University. It is apparent that the organizers of the event failed to consider important aspects of the situation.

I also wish to comment on the recent increase in the cost of college tuition. It is troubling to see that the administration continues to raise tuition at a rate that is not justified by the cost of living or the quality of education provided.

Sincerely,

New Laboratories Provide Research Facilities at Tech

Dr. John B. Wilbur, head of the Department of Civil and Sanitary Engineering, announced the establishment of new laboratories for the study of sanitary biology on December 3.

The new laboratories are designed to provide facilities for studying the effects of water, sewage, and industrial waste on the environment. The laboratories will be equipped with state-of-the-art equipment and will be available to all students and faculty members.

Staff members of the laboratories will be Dr. John B. Wilbur, Dr. William J. Thomas, and Dr. Alice L. Allen.
