Steel Deliveries Place New Dorm Behind Schedule

Last week, your voting reporter and one of his journalistic colleagues wandered across the athletic field to the west end of the building, and if the construction is just a little behind schedule, we are fairly well now, and we should be able to have the dormitory ready in time, in order to make the move into the new dorm.

$25 LIMIT IRPRACTICAL

Dear Sir:

There is now a $25 per day limit on withdrawals from student depot accounts and on checks cashed at the Cashier's Office. This is an inevitable limitation of any size institution, for example, that we need $100. Maybe we need it quickly. We have to make four separate trips, each four separate checks, and take four days to get our money. Is this just? Furthermore, look at the extra bookkeeping involved - four entries where one could suffice. Is this practical?

Here's how you can perform a service. Draw out the settlement among the students against the $25 limit and for the previous limit of $100. Armed with this information, maybe we can persuade the administration to revert to the $25 limit.
