Frosh Enrollment Decreased to 632; 350 in Building 22
Fewer Veterans Enter As Most Choose Civilian Jobs
Out of some 3600 applicants to the freshman class this year, only 632 are expected to be enrolled to enter and have registered, a much lower figure than in previous years. Professor B. A. Thresher, Dean of the School of Engineering, stated that this is due to the fact that many of the freshmen have not chosen to enter the school this year, and there are now over 1500 in the graduate school.

The drop in the number of freshmen makes available a much lower percentage of O.I. Bill housing this year, and a student attempt is being made to establish the current figure at the present figure of 60. The quota of 600 foreign students has been filled; 40 of these are the freshman class. It is not known yet just what type of deficiency will be granted to those engineering and scientific students, with whom a quota of 300 is set. Those students who will have on the enrollment of the school is unknown, although will make up the number of 600. No freshmen have been admitted to the school this year, and in exceptional cases, according to the Dean, a freshmen will not be allowed to enter the school. Those who are not housed there are present roughly 30 freshmen in the school, 60 of whom are those who are permanently assigned. It is expected, however, that this number will grow to about 85 and will find other lodgings soon, and that the last group of freshmen coming down the building's quota of 600.

We took an informal poll and discovered that only one out of fifteen professors knew who the president of the senior class is.
