CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

Let the punishment fit the crime. This famous bit from Gilbert and Sullivan with its connotations seems to have been ignored recently when the student body awoke to the realization of the punishments which were dealt out in the explosion episode. Much emphasis has been put on the fact that it could not be considered a prank when possible innocents were being punished. That is, for that is the decision of the "explosives expert" called in to testify on the danger of the primacord and also seems to lean heavily upon the decisions which were widely publicized in the local press.

To examine these points more closely it is doubtful if the opinion of one expert should have been taken without support. Certainly the plans might have been expressed by qualified men capable of understanding the power of the explosive. Any explosive is dangerous with the Wellesley College Orches-tar, and the Harvard Choral Society, and the Harvard-Radcliffe Choral Society, and the Harvard-Radcliffe Orchestra will present Handel's Messiah at Sanders Theatre. The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. and tickets may be purchased in advance from the Harvard "Cook" or at Jordan Hall.

Also this week on Sunday, the Tech Sapoppin Show will present a concert in combination with the Wellesley College Orchestra at Wellesley's Alumni Hall. You do not have to be a Tech Sapoppin member, and the concert starts at 4:30 p.m.
