Pucksters Drop 2 Tilts; Bow To BC, Northeastern

North Eastern took the Engineer hockey squad to the tune of seven to three and 4-3 to Northeastern for the second time loss of the week. On Monday night, the Engineers had upset a game high against B.C.'s champions, only to lose out 1-0. B.C. has been rescheduled for use February and has been canceled due to lack of ice. Hence, the Engineers took a chance to improve their record as pucksters so far. Of the second stanza, when B.C.-and trailed lby only 5-3 near the end on the ice, too many of the scoring was done. The team played slow hockey for the first period; during the second and third stanza the Engineers were fast and rough, with the bunch coming in on the long end of the scoring.
