Red Plot to Ship
Top Scientists
Bared At Tech

Steamers in Harbor
Set to Carry Key Men
To Soviet Union

From reliable sources the Daily Beamer has discovered that waving in Boston Harbor is a steamer read to transport some thirty M.I.T. scientists to Soviet Russia. We be lieve that this extending development is the climax of long years of Communist intrigue and espionage.

Early this morning, a Beamer reporter visited the Institute in the gulf of a janitor. In Huntington Hall, a Physics Lecture room by day, he found remnants of a Commando meeting that had transpired but a few hours earlier. The floor was littered with cigarette butts and hammer-and-axle armbands.
A think of an exuding-looking circuit switch turned on a slide projector located in the rear of the room. A side picture of Joseph Stalin was still in the projector.
A cramped catalog in a nearby wastebasket and signed "Headquarters, the Kremlin" gave clue to the wishing ship.

In another part of the Institute buildings, the reporter found the famous Synchrotron crated and ready for shipment. The Synchrotron, for the information of our loyal readers, is the machine that provides the molecular substance casting the mushroom cloud of an atom bomb explosion. Further investigation revealed that similar aparatus such as the cyclotron, the Cybernation and the Sexatron had produced the molecular substance that, "I hope he wipes damn fool out."

Dear John
Please come back to me. I am ready to forgive you and we are out for lunch.

Need Money for Xmas
I am willing to buy one Gutenberg shrike or Shakespeare folio for fives dollars or best offer.

Best Buy of Year
For sale: One 1927 Ford Coupe.
Excellent condition. Best offer.

George Bernard Shaw once said, "Marriage is popular because it combines the maximum of temptation with the maximum of opportunity."

- TOPS WITI-

"For me then cigarette that'
and that's CH

"ONE P.
A WARNER DEC.

Page Six