Tech Offers Open House To Coincide With City Celebration

Saturday, May 15, will be the date for the first time in the history of its annual Open House, the Committee announced recently. Originally scheduled for May 8, this event was put back in order to coincide with the Boston June Festival. A crowd of 40,000 people is expected to attend.

Open House will feature exhibits by all departments and major students activities, and will show the year's application to everyday life of the various types of research conducted by the Institute. Although individual invitations will not be extended this year, the families and friends of students are cordially invited to attend. The event will also be open to the general public.

The Junior celebration is expected to attract a large number of visitors. During the events already planned are the boat races in the harbor, landing crafts demonstrations, and an annual dinner. Other features are expected to be announced later.

The Committee wishes to announce that there are still places open for admission into the sophomore class, and that W.P.I. won the event by only a few seconds.

Tomcat" Baker Prouds Uncovers Alluring Alleys

By ALEX DANDERBROOK

Based on the idea of the big "T" radio show, thought by all the best alleys are, the "Tom Cat Hour" has become one of the Institute's most successful activities. Heard over WMAT every Thursday at 5:30 p.m. by "the old tom cat" himself, Jim Baker, 3 a.m.

The program is concerned with everything and everybody in general and with women in particular.

"Tomcat" Baker saw the need of keeping Technology students informed of things on and around the campus. He thought of writing a book of interesting sidelights and facts, on the women's college students. Before he could effect this plan, he was interrupted by an estimated 56,000,000 students. How to Make Out

The "Tom Cat Hour" keeps Techology informed of all daily activities and social events, including sociological dances. The "Tom Cat" unfold to the "Cat" themselves.

At the "Tom Cat Hour," women guests are shown on the show. They try to clarify these problems.

Baker has interviewed girls from Wellesley, Simmons, and other nearby sources of inspiration. The show is accompanied by a weekly spot, "How to be a Tom Cat," which is written and presented by tickets.

Women Guest Featured

The best way to learn about the girls is from the girls themselves. To do this, the "Tom Cat Hour" features women guests on the show.

Guests have included Misses Baker, Simmons, and others. The "Tom Cat Hour" has become an extremely popular program.

Fresnoh Camp Selects Ebner, Jafer, and Gardiner

On February 17, the freshman council met in Litchfield Lounge to elect a Secretary-Treasurer and two other members of the freshman Class Committee. Merrill Ebner was elected Secretary-Treasurer, and Richard M. Jafer and Gilbert D. Gardiner were added to represent the Class of 1955 on the freshman Committee.

A new plan for the election of officers is under consideration, and the new plan will be voted on at the next meeting.

B deliberation on the issue was conducted at the meeting. The motion in favor of the new plan was carried unanimously.
