Williams Team Favored To Take Championship; Tech Is Definite Threat

The best swimmers of the New England area will be seen clashing in the waters of the pool today and tomorrow. Doug Hill, who won the 190, 50, and 100-yard freestyle races will represent Bowdoin. Hill scored 100 yards in 5:17 during the season and should be the man to beat in this district. Paul Baldwin, of Williams, is the man to beat in the 220 as he has taken this event of Williams, is the man to beat in the Intercollegiates for the past three years. Dave Blevener of Amherst and Paul Castille of M.I.T. also figure to have outstanding chances in the 100- and 200-yard competition.

Tickets are still available at the A.A. office and at the pool.

During today and tomorrow, the winner of the thirty-first annual New England Intercollegiate Swimming Association Championship will be decided at Williams Alum Pool. This year the favorite, Williams College, should have more than their share of trouble coping with their seventh straight championship. The Purple was toppled by Bowdoin and barely defended Springfield in dual competition during the regular season.

Both the Varsity and Frosh squad will be represented at the Intercollegiate, and they will be wrestling against the Boston University, Tufts, Harvard, and Yale. Despite their success, the Intercollegiates are being held this weekend and will be held again on Saturday and Sunday.

The Tech sailors as they sail on through the season, finishing with six wins against two losses.

Last year in the 121 lb. class, one of Tech's prospects, finished first place in the junior class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harlund has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

The Purple hopes ride with John Harland, Captain Will Haggerty, Tom Callahan, and Larry Foye. Harland, who last year finished in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects.

Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.

Haggerty's year's captain, was one of the mainstays of the Tech team throughout the season finishing with six wins against two losses. Last year in the 121 lb. class. Coming another of Tech's prospects, finished the season with a record of 2-1. The man to beat in the 140 pound class in the Freshman competition, is one of Chicago George Meyerson's brighter prospects. Throughout the past season, Harland has been one of the most colorful and skillful men of the team and should be the man to beat in the 140 pound class.