By STAN BENJAMIN

ELEGY TO BUILDING 22
The sun was shining on the staid
Shining with all its might.
It did its best to make the splendid
Woodwork smooth and white.
And that was scandalously; it was
A pretty morning sight.
Dendro- and the Carpenter
Were walking close at hand.
They went like anything to see
That moldy forecast stand.
If that old wreck were cleared away,
They said, "It would be grand.
If seven men with seven axes
Sawed for half a year,
Do you suppose," Dendro said,
"That they could get it clear?"

N.O.P./S.N.T. 1