India—World's Third Power

"India is a third force in the world," says Sheehan in LSC Speech

"India is a third force in the world," says Sheehan in LSC Speech on Friday, December 15, 1949, which will be given at the Cambridge Theater at 8:15 p.m. The speech will be given by the Honorary Treasurer of the Indian National Congress, who is also a member of the Indian Parliament.

Sheehan said that India's position as a third force in the world is recognized by the British government, which has stated that it will not go to war against India unless compelled to do so by force of arms.

Sheehan also said that India has a population of 300 million, which is larger than the combined population of the United States and Canada.

Pres. Killian Hands School Of Humanities

M.I.T.'s fourth school will have the responsibility for providing a broad general education for students studying in the fields of science, engineering, and architecture, and in addition will be a center for creative and professional work in such social sciences as economics, which are inappropriate to the Institute, said Dr. Killian announcing the establishment of a School of Humanities and Social Studies.

This new school gives formal recognition to programs long espoused here in general education and in social science and in economics.

Dr. Killian also announced the appointment of Professors E. Buruchard as Dean of the new school and J. Sander Rubin as Associate Dean. Buruchard, who has been Dean of the Division of Humanities and Social Sciences, will hold the position of President of the School.

"We shall remain an institution of engineers who are to attain the top in their respective fields. In the course of the next 10 years, we shall broaden and deepen its activities in these fields and to educate men who can be effective citizens as well as effective professionals," Dr. Killian said.
