Committee or any House Committee for at least one year. According to Nicholas Matis, Jr., one of the authors of the document, the idea behind the changes is to increase the autonomy of the House Committees. Most of the Dorm Council's past activities, athletics, social functions, etc. will be turned over to the Dorm Council itself, acting only as a coordinating agency, except for the sponsorship of a few all-dormitory dances.

Weekend Caucus Plans To Select Junior Class slate

A Class of 1952 caucus will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., in Room 1-190, to select a slate of candidates for the spring elections. All class members are invited to attend, even though only twenty students (i.e. from each of the three living groups) will do the voting. Nominations for potential slate members will come from one of the following:

Any member of the caucus, according to the caucus committee, can in any way support or the reelecled slate, nor does this cause in any way prevent others from running for or offering other slate.

The ninety voting members of the caucus were chosen by a ten-man committee, which, in turn, was picked from a meeting of about twenty members of the class. The ten-man committee is headed by a non-voting chairman, Harold W. Lawrence. Also on the committee are: Robert M. Brier, Stanley I. Hixson, Dana M. Forbottom, William A. Maydon, J. Burgess Jamison, Robert R. Lane, Edward J. Marquille, Walden Newcomer, and Gustave J. Ruhl.

Eligibility for the caucus was handled by Howard C. Anderson, Marvin C. Mum, and Robert M. Lane.
