Summer Jobs in Europe Open To Upperclassmen

Valuable Experience Offered To Technicians Needing Work

There are over twenty-five summer jobs in Europe available for undergraduates, seniors, and graduate students in their last three years. The jobs offer practical experience for a six-month period in industries of several European countries. The pay offered by the concern is sufficient to cover living expenses in one of these countries. The student music pay his expenses adequately.

Valuable Experience

These jobs have been arranged for by the N.R.A. Commission which has been working with European student groups in carrying forward the technical student exchange program. Technicians were participated in this program last year found that all the jobs were interesting and that some offered valuable professional experience. The cultural values of the programs, however, was considered more important. After completing about two months most students spent the remainder of the vacation traveling throughout Europe.

Anyone interested in applying for one of these jobs about the N.R.A. Commission, Room 22, Walter Memorial before Wednesday, May 21.

Lecture Series Committee Provides Liberal Education Through Its Lectures and Movies

An emphasized humanities program is the main effort by which the Institute is attempting to promote a better-rounded education. The Lecture Series Committee is the student representative of the Humanities Department. Of and by the students exclusively, its activities have become an important part of the educational program on campus.

Organized by Harold Halvorsen, '46, and Robert Davis, '46, in the fall of 1946, the Lecture Series Committee is a non-technical subject which would supplement the work and in the same time benefit.

Subscription Series New

In the fall of 1948, the Lecture Series Subscription Service was started in its present form. The President of the Manhattan College and the President of the Lecture Series Committee initiated the service. Last year, there were nearly 1,000 subscriptions to the series. Last year, there were more than 1,000 subscriptions to the series. There are slightly less than 1,000 subscriptions to the series this year. The Lecture Series Committee has published the subscription series of the Lecture Series Committee for the last three years. The series is lineably scheduled for the next month, the program is sent to the regular subscriber at the end of the Metropolitan Opera.

The Subscription Series has had a very successful beginning. It is now the most popular of the Subscription Series, and is now the most popular of the Lecture Series Committee, at a time when the series are most popular. The Subscription Series has been published in the past, the result of a successful program. It is hoped that next year's subscription series will be the same successful program. The series is lineably scheduled for the next month, the program is sent to the regular subscriber at the end of the Metropolitan Opera.

Robert Root to Speak

For the first time in the history of the Institute students are permitted to choose a speaker, the Arthur Root Lecture Series. The Arthur Root Lecture Series is the most popular of the Lecture Series Committee, at a time when the series are most popular. The series is lineably scheduled for the next month, the program is sent to the regular subscriber at the end of the Metropolitan Opera.
