Sailing Team Cops Oberg Trophy
Undefeated Team Wins 4 Meets

BY BOB GROSS

Heavy weather was the keynote this week as the Engineer Varsity, Jay Ve and Freshman sailing teams took top honors in four regattas.

The first victory of the week was the semi-annual Greater Boston Dinghy Championships, held at home waters on Patriot's Day. Holding varsity skippers Nickerson and Fawcett in reserve, the Beavers started the Varsity "B" team of Dick Moroney and Pete Pelsenthal; Bob Woods and Bob Gross; and Ed Malinka and John Sieman. Racing against top skippers from the other five Greater Boston colleges, the sailors proceeded to cop the Oberg trophy for the fourteenth consecutive time.

Moroney, Malinka Star
Scoring honors in their divisions went to Dick Moroney in Division A, with 34 points, and Ed Malinka in Division C, with 37. The light-weight division B entry was un able to successfully counterbalance its heavy winds and voluntarily withdrew after the third race. Bob Nickerson and Jake Kerwin sprang into action with two firsts and a third, bringing the division B total to 26 points and the final team score to 101 against second place Harvard's 92.

Sailors Win Again
The newly organized Fordham Yacht Club headed by Commodore John Lesig visited Tech Saturday for a dual meet, having at present no facilities and little experience. The New Yorkers fell easy prey as the Jay Veans, also racing for experience, stopped them cold in four races. The victory was taken with a grain of salt as the Fordham team showed strong potentials, racing for their first time in dinghies, and may prove to be first rate competition in the very near future.

Sunday, April 22, was a beautiful, day, and as the Varsity, racing in the Mystic Lakes, sailed their way to first place in Elimination "A" for the New England Dinghy Racing Championships. Final place racing in doubles as the Beaver team compiled 97 of a possible 100 points in the five team field.

Final Score
Scoring honors in division A went to Bob Nickerson and Eddy Pelsenthal, with four firsts and a third for 32 points. Not to be outdone, Tech's B division entry of Howie Fawcett and Jake Kerwin took four firsts and a second for 36 points.

Final score for the meet was: M.I.T. 87, Holy Cross 46, Rhode Island 24, Northeastern 23, Bucknell 14.

Close Contest To Weslyan

Under the expert tutelage of Coach Roy Merritt, the Tech diamond hustlers chalked up two more impressive gains this season. Though losing the first one to Connecticut, Wesleyan 8-7 on Wednesday, April 18, the game proved that the hand was热 on a freak note however.

With Wesleyan leading 5-0 in the fifth the Beavers scored one run in the sixth and then went on to lead 7-5 in the seventh on a wild pitch. The game was lost on a freak note however.

Last Saturday at Briggs Field the Beavers played host to the Dartmouth Indians, beating them 21 points.

At the end of the first frame the Green had built up a 4-0 lead, which they raised it to 8-0 before Pearlman finally hit the net for the Beavers at 11:30 of the second period. By halftime the Indians had a 7-1 advantage.

Tech Stymied
Tech was not able to hit once during the second period while the boys from the Granite State were able to garner two more markers in the third canto and four more in the fourth to make the final score 31-1 with Dartmouth on the high end.

On the same day the frosh were scheduled to play Tabor but this game has been postponed to a later date.

champions passed a little shaky day, but these faults should be ironed out by Friday afternoon, April 21, when the high school varsity from Huntington will make its first visit to the Academy grounds this year.

Tech's varsity boat has been plagued with injuries and a varied assortment of mishaps this year and were definitely not in shape for a contest like this. The heavy winds and voluntarily the subsequent run to get started. However, they did fare better than last year's club which lost 3-4 to Dartmouth.

Tech scored twice in the second period and once in the third, losing 25-0 to Dartmouth.
