By EDWARD EIGEL

The promotion of 35 class spirit will be the principal aim of Freshman Weekend. Five years ago, when F.C.C. was transferred to the S.R.P., he was forced to leave the campus, where he was able to avoid the "catholic atmosphere" of the United States. Since then, he has been forced to attend classes at the S.R.P. while he is still at home. His father, who is the principal of Freshman Weekend, explains that a large number of the students have found that this policy has been successful. He admits that it is a great disadvantage to attend classes at the S.R.P, but he feels that it is necessary for the students to attend classes in order to prepare themselves for the future.

The promotion of 35 class spirit will be the principal aim of Freshman Weekend. Five years ago, when F.C.C. was transferred to the S.R.P., he was forced to leave the campus, where he was able to avoid the "catholic atmosphere" of the United States. Since then, he has been forced to attend classes at the S.R.P. while he is still at home. His father, who is the principal of Freshman Weekend, explains that a large number of the students have found that this policy has been successful. He admits that it is a great disadvantage to attend classes at the S.R.P, but he feels that it is necessary for the students to attend classes in order to prepare themselves for the future.

F.C.C. Formulates New Plans For Improved Freshman Weekend

The promotion of 35 class spirit will be the principal aim of Freshman Weekend. Five years ago, when F.C.C. was transferred to the S.R.P., he was forced to leave the campus, where he was able to avoid the "catholic atmosphere" of the United States. Since then, he has been forced to attend classes at the S.R.P. while he is still at home. His father, who is the principal of Freshman Weekend, explains that a large number of the students have found that this policy has been successful. He admits that it is a great disadvantage to attend classes at the S.R.P, but he feels that it is necessary for the students to attend classes in order to prepare themselves for the future.

The promotion of 35 class spirit will be the principal aim of Freshman Weekend. Five years ago, when F.C.C. was transferred to the S.R.P., he was forced to leave the campus, where he was able to avoid the "catholic atmosphere" of the United States. Since then, he has been forced to attend classes at the S.R.P. while he is still at home. His father, who is the principal of Freshman Weekend, explains that a large number of the students have found that this policy has been successful. He admits that it is a great disadvantage to attend classes at the S.R.P, but he feels that it is necessary for the students to attend classes in order to prepare themselves for the future.