NOTICES

Dean Contest
Want to win some Chesterfields? Easy! Just stop in at the COOP this week or next and try your luck at guessing the number of beans in the fishbowl. Here are the rules:
1. Submit each guess on the back of a Chesterfield wrapper with your name and address.
2. Contest closes 5:00 p.m., May 17.
3. No limit to the number of entries.
4. No integrating will be allowed.
5. Closest guess will win two cartons of Chesterfields, and the next closest will win one carton.

Technique
President Killian will speak at the TECHNIQUE Smoker to be held next Monday, May 7, at 5:00 p.m., in Tyler Lounge. The purpose of the meeting is to select men for the year book staff. Refreshments will be served.

TCA Scholarships
TCA will award several scholarships to the Summer Institute for Social Progress at Wellesley College, July 7 through 21, 1951. The problem this year will be East and West, Goals and Challenges. Scholarships cover expenses for tuition, room and board but not travel. Applications should be in to the TCA Office by May 24.

Student Tutors
Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Freshmen
(Continued from Page 1)
fall that the restrictive living proposal is put into effect. This would give the freshmen three rush weeks to build up their houses in order to successfully carry on through the lean year when no freshmen would be living in the fraternity houses. However, pledging, with the exception that no pledges would live in the houses until the following year.

The JFC representatives brought out the point that all fraternity men should operate on a equal financial margin between the black and the red and that the loss of six or seven men is enough to put most fraternities into the red. Because of this fact advance notice should definitely be given.

The question was then asked, "What financial support could the fraternities expect from the Institute?" to which Dean Parnsworth answered, that if the case warrants and if the treasurer war

TCA Scholarships
TCA will award several scholarships to the Summer Institute for Social Progress at Wellesley College, July 7 through 21, 1951. The problem this year will be East and West, Goals and Challenges. Scholarships cover expenses for tuition, room and board but not travel. Applications should be in to the TCA Office by May 24.

Student Tutors
Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Freshmen
(Continued from Page 1)
fall that the restrictive living proposal is put into effect. This would give the freshmen three rush weeks to build up their houses in order to successfully carry on through the lean year when no freshmen would be living in the fraternity houses. However, pledging, with the exception that no pledges would live in the houses until the following year.

The JFC representatives brought out the point that all fraternity men should operate on a equal financial margin between the black and the red and that the loss of six or seven men is enough to put most fraternities into the red. Because of this fact advance notice should definitely be given.

The question was then asked, "What financial support could the fraternities expect from the Institute?" to which Dean Parnsworth answered, that if the case warrants and if the treasurer war

TCA Scholarships
TCA will award several scholarships to the Summer Institute for Social Progress at Wellesley College, July 7 through 21, 1951. The problem this year will be East and West, Goals and Challenges. Scholarships cover expenses for tuition, room and board but not travel. Applications should be in to the TCA Office by May 24.

Student Tutors
Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Freshmen
(Continued from Page 1)
fall that the restrictive living proposal is put into effect. This would give the freshmen three rush weeks to build up their houses in order to successfully carry on through the lean year when no freshmen would be living in the fraternity houses. However, pledging, with the exception that no pledges would live in the houses until the following year.

The JFC representatives brought out the point that all fraternity men should operate on a equal financial margin between the black and the red and that the loss of six or seven men is enough to put most fraternities into the red. Because of this fact advance notice should definitely be given.

The question was then asked, "What financial support could the fraternities expect from the Institute?" to which Dean Parnsworth answered, that if the case warrants and if the treasurer war

TCA Scholarships
TCA will award several scholarships to the Summer Institute for Social Progress at Wellesley College, July 7 through 21, 1951. The problem this year will be East and West, Goals and Challenges. Scholarships cover expenses for tuition, room and board but not travel. Applications should be in to the TCA Office by May 24.

Student Tutors
Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Freshmen
(Continued from Page 1)
fall that the restrictive living proposal is put into effect. This would give the freshmen three rush weeks to build up their houses in order to successfully carry on through the lean year when no freshmen would be living in the fraternity houses. However, pledging, with the exception that no pledges would live in the houses until the following year.

The JFC representatives brought out the point that all fraternity men should operate on a equal financial margin between the black and the red and that the loss of six or seven men is enough to put most fraternities into the red. Because of this fact advance notice should definitely be given.

The question was then asked, "What financial support could the fraternities expect from the Institute?" to which Dean Parnsworth answered, that if the case warrants and if the treasurer war

TCA Scholarships
TCA will award several scholarships to the Summer Institute for Social Progress at Wellesley College, July 7 through 21, 1951. The problem this year will be East and West, Goals and Challenges. Scholarships cover expenses for tuition, room and board but not travel. Applications should be in to the TCA Office by May 24.

Student Tutors
Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.

Applications to become a student tutor are now available in the Dean's Office. Deadline for their receipt is May 24.