All Freshmen Face 5 Rugged Courses

One of the unexplained facts of nature is that most students come to Technology to study. To help the freshmen along in this direction, we submit the following guide of wisdom, penned by the voice of bitter experience, covering the freshmen curriculum.

Skills rules are important weapons at Tech in the battle for survival. A tasty one is not necessary the first year—a project edition will serve—but in the years ahead, the courses become more hostile, so it does no harm to get a good slide rule early. Any freshman should be willing to deliver a lengthy soliloquy on the subject. Despite some respected opinions, Slide rules are important weapons.
