story, and sent out an alarm for the 'dismanners,' which resulted in their apprehension. When the police learned it was all a joke, they warned the boys not to try it again, so they might become the target of some well-meaning cop who was not in on the gag. All in all, it was quite a prank, as jokes go, but not a recommended one.

Technology Sailors Lose Wood Regatta

Technology sailors, losing an early lead because of two disqualifications in division B, finished second to a Coast Guard team whose consistent sailing carried them the Jack Wood Trophy. The Jack Wood Trophy, a semi-team event raced annually on the Thames, is held in honor of Jack Wood, the present Sailing Master at M.I.T., who was responsible for building the sailing facilities at the Coast Guard Academy while he was stationed there during the past war. Dartmouth finished third overall and for fourth-place Harvard, last year's winner of the trophy. The final scores for each team were: (1) Coast Guard Academy, 89; (2) M.I.T., 7152; (3) Dartmouth, 79; and (4) Harvard, 645.

Sgt Mezick and Paul Golden, and John Riterman and Alain de Bacar rounded in division A for M.I.T., Jack Kerwin and Pete Felsenthal, and Martin Altquist and Ted Garcia sailed in division B. Sgt Mezick, with 25¼ points, was the high scorer in the regatta.

At a time like this, in which the American people have to make decisions of the greatest importance, it is imperative that all opinions be heard without intimidation.
