... Two weeks ago, the Radcliffe News devoted an entire issue to the Radcliffe and Harvard aspects of life here. The same commendation belongs to the editors of The Tech-Yoo Deo rivalry, from academic interests to social concerns. Harvard University's particular interest, however, was an editorial on why 73% of the Radcliffe girls marry Harvard men, and an accompanying story on "The Social Gam-

and care; does it destroy convictions and does not have reli-gion's commendatory value.

Should we, then, let people behave as in improbable things just be-cause it avails them from an empat-thesis and non-direction in life? Should we be relativist? Dr. Williams offered no answer. He merely stated that he did not believe in any reliion, but that for him the existence of a spiritual dimension seemed highly probable and he is waiting for further proof to develop. We believe religion as practiced today is undesirable in many respects but necessary simply because there is something terrible and hideous about its absence as seen in Hitler and Russia. Dr. Williams stated that it is not probable that any one religion is right, but that it is probably there is some supernatural, spiritual government of the world.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 27...THE LYNX

This sporty student really took on a long tirde when he found himself astounded by the "single pull" and "one sniff" cigarette tests. "They're strictly for the birds," said H., and his cigarette mindness requires more deliberation than a cursory inhale or exhale. Millions of smokers concur - there's only one true test of mildness and flavor in a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Cames as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, park-after-park basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camel for 30 days in your "I-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions
