Amundrud-Gourley To Receive Awards
Dr. Isadore Amundrud, Professor of Physiology at City College, has been elected Fellow in the American Philosophical Society. Dr. Amundrud has received this honor in recognition of his postgraduate work in the field of physiology.

A member of the Department of Chemistry since 1934, Professor Amundrud's primary work is in chemistry and optics, especially in research on methods of growing antibiotics.

At the Institute Ronald Gourley, a student at the American School for the Deaf, is the co-winner of this year's City College Engineering Society's annual prize. Gourley will be presented with a certificate and $500 prize.

Registration

From the Registrar's Office:

The deadline for registering students is January 15. Duplicate forms for students who were unable to attend the registration period in person must be completed and sent to the registrar's office. No reports will be filed until all forms are completed and submitted.

Promotions

From the Academic Affairs Office:

Hailing from this year's promotion group will be Martin B. Miller, 94, Advertising; Robert J. Young, 94, Chemical Engineering; and Ken Kuzner, 94, males, Chemistry.

Bob Fitch has stated that "academic freedom is a key principle of our university community, and it is vital to the well-being of the institution as a whole." He added that "anyone who violates this principle will face consequences."