Money-Raising Carnival Planned By ASA To Aid War-Torn Universities

In an unprecedented effort at painlessly raising money for a worthy cause, the National Student Association has scheduled a 30-event, student-managed carnival featuring a multitude of activities which will be staged throughout the week. Plans call for the night of April 12, in Rockwell Cage, the affair is designed to make money for the World Student Service Fund, an international organization assisting war-torn universities in Europe and southeast Asia.

Lining the carnival midway will be thirty booths, built by the ASA and opened to living groups and a few activities. The idea of the booths is to make money. However, the scheme of doing this is being left up to those running the booths. The ASA has scheduled a series of games and entered a bargain with a well-known local restaurant which will give two legs of beer, will be given to the booth which collects the highest sum for the carnival.

On stages, a variety show will feature students and faculty participating. Headliners include Joe Bakken, O. Minsky, the saint of Tech student 1939. The band will be given by a group of Tech students, and as yet other faculty members present with their hair down in a variety of activities. These faculty members will be: Mr. R. G. Lock, Mr. F. R. John, Mr. W. Frans and Prof. Thomas. Mr. R. G. Lock, Mr. W. Frans and Prof. Thomas will be assisted by the student participants and will be presented as a showmanship of the best. Other stages will be given by a variety of groups, and as yet other faculty members present with their hair down in a variety of activities. These faculty members will be: Mr. R. G. Lock, Mr. W. Frans and Prof. Thomas.

The faculty will be able to see the show, at a price, by bidding for students' services such as car wash, book bag making, and car washing. These students will be student government leaders.

The ASA provides a variety of activities at the carnival, from booths at $1.00 and stags at 50c, to a variety of booths at $1.00 and stags at 50c. A Music will be provided by a five-man orchestra.

Beneficiary of all this activity, the World Student Service Fund, will be provided with all additional necessary activities, both of groups, living quarters, and student government.

Money-Raising Carnival Planned By ASA To Aid War-Torn Universities

In an unprecedented effort at painlessly raising money for a worthy cause, the National Student Association has scheduled a 30-event, student-managed carnival featuring a multitude of activities which will be staged throughout the week. Plans call for the night of April 12, in Rockwell Cage, the affair is designed to make money for the World Student Service Fund, an international organization assisting war-torn universities in Europe and southeast Asia.

Lining the carnival midway will be thirty booths, built by the ASA and opened to living groups and a few activities. The idea of the booths is to make money. However, the scheme of doing this is being left up to those running the booths. The ASA has scheduled a series of games and entered a bargain with a well-known local restaurant which will give two legs of beer, will be given to the booth which collects the highest sum for the carnival.

On stages, a variety show will feature students and faculty participating. Headliners include Joe Bakken, O. Minsky, the saint of Tech student 1939. The band will be given by a group of Tech students, and as yet other faculty members present with their hair down in a variety of activities. These faculty members will be: Mr. R. G. Lock, Mr. W. Frans and Prof. Thomas. Mr. R. G. Lock, Mr. W. Frans and Prof. Thomas will be assisted by the student participants and will be presented as a showmanship of the best. Other stages will be given by a variety of groups, and as yet other faculty members present with their hair down in a variety of activities. These faculty members will be: Mr. R. G. Lock, Mr. W. Frans and Prof. Thomas.

The faculty will be able to see the show, at a price, by bidding for students' services such as car wash, book bag making, and car washing. These students will be student government leaders.

The ASA provides a variety of activities at the carnival, from booths at $1.00 and stags at 50c, to a variety of booths at $1.00 and stags at 50c. A Music will be provided by a five-man orchestra.

Beneficiary of all this activity, the World Student Service Fund, will be provided with all additional necessary activities, both of groups, living quarters, and student government.

Military Formal To Be Held in Walker Hall Reveses To Play

Hail Reveses and his orchestra will play for the Storkbank and Stork Formal to be held on Friday, April 8, from 9 to 11 p.m. in Walker Hall.

The American Legion, who are participating in a combined study plan which affords them degree from this school and another college, will assemble at the Institute.

Principal reason for the trip is the existence of a special course so that the students will waste little time in getting into the second phase of their technical education.

Frosh Baseball

The frosh baseball rally will be held in Rockwell Cage Thursday at 3:00 p.m.