GRADUATION

The Alumni Day program will be held next Monday with more than 1,200 alumni and their guests expected to attend. The annual banquet will be held at the Daytona Hotel. The Alumni are now being called upon to give a personal interview with the Admissions Office.

ALUMNI CLUBS

$750,000 was used with other money to build the Institute's new House in Swampscott, Massachusetts, and to buy new equipment. Missell and relaxation were maintained.

Not all the work of the Institute Committees was Leadership Conference. During the year the Committees spent much of their time working on various projects and planning for the future. They were responsible for the planning of the Institute's annual Leadership Conference which will be held in June 1952. The Institute Committee which oversaw the planning of the Leadership Conference was composed of students and alumni who have worked to promote the Institute's image and status in the public eye. One of their important tasks was to ensure that the Institute is primarily a place for boys to play, not for girls to work. They were also responsible for ensuring that sports and other recreations were still some people who insist, for musical and dramatic clubs, from the beginning of the Institute's existence, that the Techman wants to do. It is important that the Institute members and officers work in harmony, and that the Techman is satisfied with the Institute's administration and its Alumni.

ED COUNCIL

The Techman wants to do. It is important that the Institute members and officers work in harmony, and that the Techman is satisfied with the Institute's administration and its Alumni.

The conference will consist of six sessions, beginning the morning and afternoon of each of these days. Four sessions will be devoted to general sessions, and one to sessions on specific topics.

The Techman is a well-known student publication at MIT. It is a weekly publication that covers a wide variety of topics, including science, engineering, and technology, as well as news and events from the Institute. The Techman is read by students, alumni, and faculty, and it is an important source of information and communication for the Institute.

The Techman is published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year, except during college vacation. It is available for subscription at $3.50 per year, $6.00 for two years. The Techman is published by the Alumni Clubs, and it is supported by advertising and subscription revenues.
