editorials

(Continued From Page 1)

release the tension of the academic work and return to it with renewed vigor.

The opportunities for developing into a mature and well rounded man during your four years at M.I.T. are countless. The Institute has, as to say, a reputation in some parts, for putting it out as an end product an unsociable, little cultured but well-functioning individual.

Avoid developing into one at any cost. If from all the verbal and literary matter which has been given you this past week-end you retain nothing but this, you will have done more than well.

LOST: ONE BROWN RAINCOAT

The number of "LOST" notices tucked to the racks in the closet-room of Walker Memorial Dining Hall is reaching epidemic proporions. Within theft, we believe, is the last of the causes. The first, we think, is carelessness. Text books in their M.I.T. jackets look very much alike; so do lab books and paper folders issued at the Coop, as well as rain coats, brief-cases and slide rules. It is easy to come in to handle with one set of books and to leave with another. A little care will do away with much inconvenience.

SALARIES FOR ACTIVITY LEADERS

At Wednesday's meeting of the Institute Committee a proposal came from the floor suggesting that leaders of student ac-
...