I

Cambridge Official Deplores Jaywalking in Harvard Square

An amendment to jaywalking regulations in the Harvard Square area is now under consideration by the Traffic Board of the City of Cambridge, according to a report in the Boston Daily Herald. A complaint was made against Harvard students by Cambridge City Councilman Edward J. Sullivan.

Mr. Sullivan said that the Harvard students were running Massachusetts Avenue, particularly at night, "roosting books and thinking that the street was a sort of the Yard." He said the complaint also covered riders on bicycles without lights and suggested that City Manager John J. Curry as-point policemen to conduct a cruising street-crawling at Harvard and

Fall Elections Take Place Thursday

Fall elections will be held on Thursday, November 7 for Senior, Junior and Sophomore office.

Ten elected seniors will represent their Sophomore on the Senior Committee. The Juniors are scheduled to appoint four members of the Junior Ring Committee and the Senior Ring Committee.

The Juniors will select to represent the Class of '55, four members of the Junior Executive Committee, one least junior, one to be picked from the Senior Committee, one from the Junior Committee.

All students are reminded that it is necessary to show their registration cards when voting.

INSTCOMM AGENDA

Institute Committee will meet in the Spring Semester.

(1) Committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of an All-Tech Dance.

(2) Approval of the Spring Be-calender.

(3) Report of the "Ways and means of financing leadership conferences" bill from the table.

I

Wellesley Dramatists Present Old Plays

William H. Beesley, '54, will play the role of Colonel Howard in Anna
Stevenson's play "Passion," which will be performed at the Wellesley Col-

ed Saturday, November 7.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barnicle Theater on November 7 and 8.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barn-

icle Theater on November 7 and 8.

William H. Beesley, '54, will play the role of Colonel Howard in Anna
Stevenson's play "Passion," which will be performed at the Wellesley Col-

ed Saturday, November 7.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barn-

icle Theater on November 7 and 8.

William H. Beesley, '54, will play the role of Colonel Howard in Anna
Stevenson's play "Passion," which will be performed at the Wellesley Col-

ed Saturday, November 7.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barn-

icle Theater on November 7 and 8.

William H. Beesley, '54, will play the role of Colonel Howard in Anna
Stevenson's play "Passion," which will be performed at the Wellesley Col-

ed Saturday, November 7.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barn-

icle Theater on November 7 and 8.

William H. Beesley, '54, will play the role of Colonel Howard in Anna
Stevenson's play "Passion," which will be performed at the Wellesley Col-

ed Saturday, November 7.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barn-

icle Theater on November 7 and 8.

William H. Beesley, '54, will play the role of Colonel Howard in Anna
Stevenson's play "Passion," which will be performed at the Wellesley Col-

ed Saturday, November 7.

Written in the nineteenth century,

the play will be presented by Barnicle Theater on November 7 and 8.