Seymour Captures Wrestling Laurels

In New Englands

Despite the outstanding efforts of heavyweight Charles C. (Chuck) Seymour '55, the Beaver wrestlers could do no better than place sixth in the recent New England Intercollegiate Wrestling Championships, held at Williamsport, Massachusetts last weekend. Seymour pinned all rivals in taking Tech's only championship. Jack D. Graef '54 and John Kennaday '55 took third to accounts for the Engineers after points.

Seymour Outstanding

Seymour, undefeated in intercollegiate wrestling, easily outdistanced his three rivals, pinning Al Sofir of Springfield, who had won five of six matches the week before, in the third period. Seymour also had the only chance to pin all opponents in the tourney. In the 131 pound class, Techman Jack Graef surprised by winning the consolation round and placing third. Graef recovered from an early 1-0 deficit to whip his man decisively in the consolation battle.

Kennaday Scores

Jack Kennaday, after pinning his first opponent, took out Springfield's Olympic alternate, Sam Courson, wrestling Tech's first for the first time this year, and was himself pinned. Kennaday came back after his defeat last year's varsity captain, with pins over Amherst. Walter Lawson, and Harold Becker, all '56 accounted for the Beaver points.
