Unofficial Changes In New Domains

Dean E. Prunier-Bawden ruled real last week with the members of a four-man committee which was appointed by House and Dormitory Committees to prepare a revised list of dormitory regulations. This men were Charles J. Malvin, 3A, president of Dormitory Committee, and Samuel J. Leal, 10D, Gerald Vietta, 10D, and Leazinn Wittam, 4D, presidents of the Residence Committee of West Campus, All, and Harston Residence, respectively.

Unofficially, the following changes were made:

Rule (3)—In essence, the regulation was modified to state that a car will be seen with the registration material.

Failure to return the card will result in cancellation of the room assignment. A $1.00 deposit, nonrefundable, is due by August 31.

The money will be refunded if the room is vacated on or before the last day of Registration Day.

Rule (4)—Room changes will be permitted, but not until three weeks after the start of the term. Applications for rooms made prior to registration day will have priority over those made at a later date.

Rule (5)—Students will be allowed to move from dormitory to fraternity houses, respectively.

Rule (6)—The Institute may relocate dormitory students to other areas of the campus.

Rule (7)—Cooking utensils are not permitted in dormitories for safety and sanitation.

Rule (8)—All dormitory regulations are those of the responsibility of Student Government.

A phrase saying that the exceptions to the rules may be made individually by the Dean and the students who have as yet not been noticed.

Junior Tennis

A brisk walk past Boylston on Mass. Ave. is a good way to get your foot in the door of any good tennis game. In the case of the Harvard-RPI match, it was a good walk indeed.

The Harvard tennis team had its annual match with R.P.I. this week, and although the score was 6-1, it was not as lopsided as it might have been. The reasons for this are:

1. The Harvard team is not as strong as it was last year.
2. The R.P.I. team is not as strong as it was last year.
3. The Harvard team has had many winning seasons before.
4. The R.P.I. team has had many winning seasons before.
5. The Harvard team has had many winning seasons before.
6. The R.P.I. team has had many winning seasons before.

At the beginning of the season, both teams expected to do well, but it was not to be. The Harvard team was led by its captain, Garry Ford, who was considered one of the best players in the country. The R.P.I. team was led by Jack Summers, who was considered one of the best players in the country.

The Harvard team started off well, but as the season progressed, the R.P.I. team gained the upper hand. The final score was 6-1, with R.P.I. winning all but one of the matches.

The Harvard team is collection to have a good season, but the R.P.I. team is expected to have an even better season. The upcoming matches will be watched closely by fans of both teams.
