N.S.A. Poll Reveals Student Opinions Show Liberalism

Complete results of the poll conducted last spring in order to determine the opinions of the students at the Institute toward certain questions of national significance have recently been released by the Institute Chapter of the National Student Association.

The N.S.A., which conducted the poll, assured its members that a total of 1,000 polls would be taken in both the dominions and in the fraternities. Each student who submitted a poll was guaranteed by the Interfraternity Council to distribute the poll, a houndishness on some of the question follows:

"Should a teacher be free to discuss and develop Communism?" The first question on the poll. Nearly 90% of the students said they believed he should not, as it is against his personal standards of intellectual honesty and accuracy. Another 95% of the students said a teacher should be free to speak, write, or join organizations outside the campus as long as he was within the law.

The poll also showed that the student body was very much opposed to Negro segregation in education, another topic of the poll. Nearly 93% of the students favored integration in education, and an additional 8% were against it.

The poll results were released on October 18, 1953, and are available at the dormitories and in the fraternities.
