Institute Committee

(Continued from page 1)

statement announcing the situation, "Student government autonomy is in danger as a result of these occurrences."

Henderson said that his committee was working as fast as it could. "The problem was that hard-earned fees and an immediate solution was not in the offing. We hinted that outside "barga" may be involved and made specific mention of the Boston University Football Team. He proposed the following resolution, which was accepted by both the committees.Resolved: "Depleting the irresponsible actions of the members who have chosen threats and physical violence to a retaliatory demand against members of student government who have been performing their appointed duty, the Institute Committee pledges its continuing support to all members of student government and further vouches all students of the gravity of any such actions which could deprive our undergraduates of their traditional autonomy and freedom."

The latest report indicates that the kidnapped students were apprehended in their rooms about the hour of midnight, and removed in an efficient, business-like manner from the building. Everything appeared untrumped and well-aimed, physical violence was displayed against the part of the victim being rendered helpless by sheer weight of numbers.

One of the victims was able to make his escape, in his attempts to remove the floorboard against the pavement. The victim de- scribed the experience as very har- rying, both physically and mentally.

In Street Tardes.

In several other actions on various proposals, the council reached several important decisions: It was moved and passed that all the members of the Class of '54, '55, and '56 be equally assessed to cover the cost of the pref- day damage that occurred last year, principally in the dormi- tory area, for the purchase of '57 was expected, because they were not at the instants last year when there was no way they could not possibly be responsible for any of the damage. Also decided upon at this time.

A petition was received which re- quires Institute Committee to hold referendum on a motion brought by the Institute Committee on Fresh- men hazing. The referendum will be Structural Design Features Of The Dorrance Bldg.

The Dorrance Building, new two-million-dollar headquarters for the Departments of Food Technology and Biology, was featured in the October issue of Progressive Architectural. Completed last spring, the building was designed by the firm of Anderson and Beckworth, both of whom are professors in the Department of Archi-

The article stressed the flexibility of the building and the advanced pro- visions for mechanical equipment and services. "An essential was a flexible and efficient arrangement of ventilation and exhaust ducts and the diverse laboratory services." The building, which the architect, Mr. Anderson, had described as "very har-

Voting on the resolution was decided to hold an unoffi-racal meeting on Monday, Novem- ber 2, in the Rockwell Cage. All interested are urged to try out.

Field Day Football

(Continued from page 1)

WRESTLING PRACTICE

Varied and fencing wrestling practice will start on Monday, Novem- ber 2, in the Rockwell Cage. All interested are urged to try out.

Start smoking Camel yourself!

Smokes only Camels for 30 days and find out why Camels are America's most popular cigarette. See how mild and non-irritating a cigarette can be!