CONGRATULATIONS TO VEO DOO—WE TRIED

The veo doo wheels have shown that, when met with a challenge, diligence, all night stands— sogar a large sum of money—will be successful in humbling their worthy adversaries. These wheels will, however, unfortunately be off beer for a great many months to come. The Tech stands ashamed. But its chagrin is indeed lessened by the knowledge that we have been bested—for the time being—by a publication of high, though questionable standing. We congratulate them on their quick work.

However, it is indeed a pity to note that the veo doo wardrobes have failed to give mr. riley adequate first page recognition for his part in their invention. In the days when they neglected to devote from page 1 the credit originally designed for mr. leonard for his truly artistic drawing which the veo doo masts so greatly threw to the winds.

Again we congratulate the veo doo mastersminds.

But wait 'till next year! (And next year is just around the corner.)
