SPRING DANCES

When the snow was beginning to melt, just after the first snowfall of the year, there was a great change in the weather and in the atmosphere. The sky was clear and blue, and the sun shone brightly. The wind was light and gentle, making the trees sway gently. The air was fresh and clean, making the plants grow vigorously.

EXHIBITIONS

The exhibition was open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays, and from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on weekends. The exhibits included paintings, sculptures, photographs, and videos. The exhibits were arranged in a logical sequence, with each section building on the previous one. The exhibit was well-lit, with ample space for each piece. The visitors were encouraged to touch and explore the pieces, and they were provided with documentation and audio guides to enhance their experience.
