The Tech

Bevera Stickmen
Boost Two Wins On Southern Trip

By John Friedman '32

A few days before vacation the MIT coaching staff met with Athletic Director George E. Gage to discuss a picture at Tech—there has been—there is now a lessening interest in interscholastic sports. What has caused this slackening interest? The coaches listed quite a few reasons: poor equipment and insufficiency, enough locker space at Walkley, and important than the note.

You don't care and... unfortunately, no one else does either. Of course, there are a few exceptions. The guys on the hockey team who went to Lyon at six o'clock in the morning. The crewmen who fought practices at seven every night and rowed back to cold diners. There are a few, but the majority are like you, you just don't care.

The coaches made some suggestions which may help to better the situation, if the administration pays any heed. They also were in favor of the formation of a varsity club. This is underway and before the end of this month, there should be a Varsity

T-Club.

All these things are fine. They say they went on to win 6-3, scoring two goals in thirty minutes of the fourth quarter. Gerakulis, with two goals each at Western Maryland and Baltimore and once against Delaware, was the scoring leader. Dyke with four and Brown ers, and maybe... But it doesn't take the way you think... But you won't, because you don't care.

Maybe if you did care we'd have the kind of gym an institution of this size should have. Maybe we'd have a hockey rich near the Cape as those hockey players won't have to go to Lynn at six in the morning, and a table as the crewmen won't come home every night to cold diners, and may.

But it doesn't really matter because you don't care.
