Inscmom Subcomm Ethics

The next major point Inscomm dis- cussed was one of appropriating $50 to the P.R.C. for open house releases on graduating seniors. However, a motion read "$50 from the Compton Prize. The Compton Prize is a one thousand dollar prize awarded to Inscomm, to do with as they see fit. However Inscomm did not think that it was appropriate to spend this prize for home town releases. Therefore the committee changed the motion to read "Parking Fund.” Again they were faced with a problem: the parking fund is empty due to expenses incurred by Open House. At the present time P.R.C. is trying to arrange things with the Institute so that they shall bear the cost of Open House, and allow Inscomm to appropriate the necessary $50.

The remainder of the meeting was occupied with the usual business, namely the representatives of the class of '48, and a motion concerning a fine imposed on Voo Doo due to its return of financial reports.

In the remaining minutes of the meeting a motion was made and passed re-establishing the Comm, nses the representatives of the class of '48, and a motion concerning a fine imposed on Voo Doo due to its return of financial reports.
