Cagers Bow To Terriers Despite Weber's Fine Play

Boston University came up with a tight zone defense and, exploiting its height advantage, ended the Engineer cage win streak at five. The scrappy Terriers beat the Terriers in a fine job of ball-handling and rebounding, but their shooting was subpar.

The Terriers took an early lead and midway through the first half were six points ahead, 14-18. Giff Weber scored a rebound, and Jack Britt notched a pair of fouls. Captain Carl Hersh stole the ball and led the team to a two-one-on-two break. He passed off to Jack Britt who tied the score, 14-14, with a driving one-hander from ten feet out on the left side, but Kelly dropped a pair of long sets. He stole the ball at mid court and drove in to score his third straight basket, a layup. The final tied 16-16. The Terriers turned two baskets throughout the early part of the second half.
