Roland D. Parks, associate professor of mineral industry at the Institute of Technology, has been appointed to the Technical Aid Program in India, serving as guest professor of mineral mining and surveying at the Indian School of Mines and Applied Geology, Dhanbad.

Parks' assignment is sponsored by the University of Wisconsin to develop and expand the educational program in mineral economics, mining and expanding the educational activities at the Indian School of Mines and the Indian School of Mines and Technology. He will be in charge of the program sponsored by the Indian School of Mines and the Indian School of Mines and Technology.

The recently reorganized Dramashop has produced a modernistic farce adapted from Uncle Tom's Cabin by Augustus H. and titled "The King and the Duke," directed by Joseph Everingham, Professor of English at MIT, and the co-director of the Dramashop's production, Joseph Everingham, Professor of English at MIT, and the co-director of the Dramashop's production. The play will be presented in the Little Theatre, Kresge Auditorium, Tuesday, May 2 through Friday, May 6.

The author of the play, a noted drama critic, is currently a Professor of English at Wellesley College. A guest from India, serving as guest professor of mineral mining and surveying, he will be in charge of the program sponsored by the Indian School of Mines and the Indian School of Mines and Technology.

The Dramashop has undertaken a one-year appointment with the Technical Aid Program in India, serving as guest professor of mineral mining and surveying at the Indian School of Mines and Applied Geology, Dhanbad.

The idea of international programming is such that it will work in two directions. The student from abroad will have a specialized knowledge of his country and the problems of the foreign student to have extra orientation. The student from abroad will understand the problems and viewpoints of foreign students and how to understand them. They can then act as ambassadors of goodwill between nations.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The recently reorganized Dramashop has produced a modernistic farce adapted from Uncle Tom's Cabin by Augustus H. and titled "The King and the Duke," directed by Joseph Everingham, Professor of English at MIT, and the co-director of the Dramashop's production. The play will be presented in the Little Theatre, Kresge Auditorium, Tuesday, May 2 through Friday, May 6.

The author of the play, a noted drama critic, is currently a Professor of English at Wellesley College. A guest from India, serving as guest professor of mineral mining and surveying, he will be in charge of the program sponsored by the Indian School of Mines and the Indian School of Mines and Technology.

The Dramashop has undertaken a one-year appointment with the Technical Aid Program in India, serving as guest professor of mineral mining and surveying at the Indian School of Mines and Applied Geology, Dhanbad.

The idea of international programming is such that it will work in two directions. The student from abroad will have a specialized knowledge of his country and the problems of the foreign student to have extra orientation. The student from abroad will understand the problems and viewpoints of foreign students and how to understand them. They can then act as ambassadors of goodwill between nations.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.

Campus Programs

Delegations to the conferences also discussed programming on campus, and it was felt that a centrally co-ordinated program under student government, in cooperation with the various national organizations already working in this field, would function most effectively. To meet this need here, Inscomm has just created the International Student Program Committee, which is attempting to set up a program on campus.

The conference also mentioned specific national programs which are run for all interested students in this country. Some of the methods brought out at the workshop to effect friendly relations and to further cultural exchange include the N.S.A. tours, the East-West Exchange, and the Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. The tours sponsored by N.S.A., the cheapest available for students, are taken by about one thousand students each summer.