Baton Society To Sponsor Queen Of Sunday Night

Jo Ann Renzi Is Named

Mil. Ball

As At tache Bear, the preened Donchester girl by Richard Carroll '56, from a field of five finalists, posed for the long awaited dinner at the Club House.

The evening’s entertainment took place during intermission, and was one of the highlights of the evening. In lieu of the queen’s entry, a picture ceremony, the queen of the evening was presented with a tiara as a coronation took place. At this time, the ceremony was followed by a drill by the queen and her escort, followed by the presentation of sabers. The queen and her escort then entered the dance, to the accompaniment of sabers, the queen and her escort bore the honor guard with which she was subsequently joined.

The ball was held at the Hotel Bしょう on Friday, March 6. It lasted from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and featured to music of Jack Edwards and his orchestra. During the intermission of the Boston Woodwind Quintet is to be sponsored by the MIT Baton Society this Sunday evening, March 13, at 8:00 p.m. in the new Agassiz Auditorium. The Quintet, composed of five members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, includes a flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, and French horn.

Tickets at $1.50 and $2.00 each, are now on sale in the lobby of Building 10, and will be sold at the door on the night of the concert. Students of the Institute will receive a fifty cent discount at either price.

The program will include:

Overture Suite, Georg Philip Telemann
Kammermusik, 24 No. 2, Paul Hindemith
Live
Menuetto
Boulevard

The dance also featured a drill by members of Pershing Rifles as well as the coronation and the presentation of sabers to the new members.

When the stag-line rushes and you're the girl she steps out to have a cigarette with... M-m-man, that's PURE PLEASURE!

For more pure pleasure... SMOKE CAMELS! No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild! P.S. No other brand has ever been able to match the pure pleasure in Camel's exclusive blend of costly tobacco! That's why Camel's America's most popular cigarette!
