Burton Comm Studies Laundry; Baker Checks Delegates Housing

Under the general topic of new business Burton House Committee discussed the proposed washing machines and the pinball machines that has been destitute.

The major point of controversy concerning the washing machines was the price for a wash and dry and the proposed location of the machines. The proposal to put the machines in the steam plant was first voted against, but the committee then voted to place the machines in the building where they would be needed. The committee also voted to make the machines available to all students, regardless of their ability to pay.

A motion to change the by-laws regarding the Social Chair was defeated, but the committee did agree to the suggestion of setting aside a room for social events.

The committee agreed to the suggestion of setting aside a room for social events. The committee also voted to create a new position of Housing Chairman.

French Books Display

An excellent selection of new scientific and technical books from French publishers is on display in the Institute Library until March 31. About 360 books in pure science are on exhibit in the Mathematics Reference Section in the Science Library. About 110 new books are being shown in the Engineering Library, and a limited number of catalogues is available.

The exhibit was prepared by M. Pierre Doussoy, professor and representative of the French Universities in the United States to inform American scientists and educators of the work of the French universities. This week the tour of exhibits has been completed, the books will be distributed among participating libraries, a gift from the French publishers.

In 1928, he foresaw the law for the foreign service. His first overseas assignment was in Washington. From 1949 to 1954 Sir Roger was in the Foreign Office in London, serving as adviser on League of Nations Affairs. In 1945 he was promoted to Commissioner and assigned to the staff of the Secretary of the United Nations. In 1941 he was Assistant to the Resident Minister at Allied Headquarters Mediterranean Command.

Prior to his appointment as U.S. Ambassador he had been three visits to this country, in 1940 with Mr. Bertrand Errich and Sir Stafford Cripps, in 1946 with Mr. Atlee, and in 1946 with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Anthony Eden.

Under the general topic of new business Burton House Committee discussed the proposed washing machines and the pinball machines that has been destitute.

The major point of controversy concerning the washing machines was the price for a wash and dry and the proposed location of the machines. The proposal to put the machines in the steam plant was first voted against, but the committee then voted to place the machines in the building where they would be needed. The committee also voted to make the machines available to all students, regardless of their ability to pay.

A motion to change the by-laws regarding the Social Chair was defeated, but the committee did agree to the suggestion of setting aside a room for social events.

The committee agreed to the suggestion of setting aside a room for social events. The committee also voted to create a new position of Housing Chairman.

French Books Display

An excellent selection of new scientific and technical books from French publishers is on display in the Institute Library until March 31. About 360 books in pure science are on exhibit in the Mathematics Reference Section in the Science Library. About 110 new books are being shown in the Engineering Library, and a limited number of catalogues is available.

The exhibit was prepared by M. Pierre Doussoy, professor and representative of the French Universities in the United States to inform American scientists and educators of the work of the French universities. This week the tour of exhibits has been completed, the books will be distributed among participating libraries, a gift from the French publishers.

In 1928, he foresaw the law for the foreign service. His first overseas assignment was in Washington. From 1949 to 1954 Sir Roger was in the Foreign Office in London, serving as adviser on League of Nations Affairs. In 1945 he was promoted to Commissioner and assigned to the staff of the Secretary of the United Nations. In 1941 he was Assistant to the Resident Minister at Allied Headquarters Mediterranean Command.

Prior to his appointment as U.S. Ambassador he had been three visits to this country, in 1940 with Mr. Bertrand Errich and Sir Stafford Cripps, in 1946 with Mr. Atlee, and in 1946 with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Anthony Eden.