 Sig Ep Group Wins All Tech Sing

THE FIRST prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song." The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.

The first prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song."

The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.

The first prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song."

The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.

The first prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song."

The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.

The first prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song."

The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.

The first prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song."

The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.

The first prize winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, sing one of their three selections of the evening, "The Drinking Song."

The Burton Presentation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the All-Tech Sing Trophy for the second straight year in the competition held Saturday night in the Kresge Auditorium. Winners of Epstein, an award which varies annually and is given to the group with the most original and imaginative presentations, were the Burton House "Virtue Variations." Epstein this year was a pair of oil's antlers, twelve point.

Winning Renditions

The Sig Eps, directed by Dave Vabright '59, retained the trophy with an excellent rendition of the "Drinking Song" from the Student Prince, "The Happy Wanderers," and "The Halls of Ivy." Phi Gamma Delta, directed by Bob McLaughlin '56, and Harry Flagg '07, was awarded a second place certificate for their presentation of "Jada," "Behind the Swingin' Door," and "A Selection from the Hit Parade." In third place was Beta Theta Pi with a quartet led by Jim Rowan '57. The Betas did "Rambler," and "Climbing up the Mountain."

Every year the Burton Society presents the All-Tech Sing to stir up interest in musical activities on campus. This year the committee on the sing was headed by Larry Barman '56. Master of ceremonies was Professor Sam Mason and the judges were Ernest Levy, John Hsia, John Corley, and Arthur Fisk.