Columbia's Trilling Speaks At Institute; Korn To Contrast Russia And America

Hans Kohn To Speak Tuesday; His Topic: "America and Russia"

On Monday, May 16, at 5:30 p.m. in room 10-500, Professor Hans Kohn of GÖTTINGEN, one of the world's leading authorities on nationalisms, will speak on "American and Russian: A Study in Similitudes and Contrasts." Professor Kohn's talk is sponsored by the Lecture Series Committee, and will be free of charge. In his book "America and Russia," he will speak not from the point of view of today's or tomorrow's policy, but from the broader historical and psychological point of view.

Kohn was born in Czeczote, Germany, on March 22, 1883. In 1920 he became a professor of European history at the University of Prague, and he came to the United States in 1933. He is professor of European history at the Smith College for 15 years. Since 1943 he has been professor of history at the College of the City of New York. Since coming to this country he has been visiting professor and lecturer at many universities including Harvard, Yale, the University of Chicago, and the University of California.

In 1940 Kohn was granted a Guggenheim Fellowship and in 1945 he was appointed a member of the Institute for Advanced Study at PRINCETON, New Jersey. He is also a member of the American Historical Society and an Honorary Fellow of the Royal Institute of International Affairs.

"Trilling Declared the Dangers of American Nationalism Have Become a Cause for Alarm."

[Image and text related to Columbia's Trilling Speaks at Institute; Korn to contrast Russia and America.]

AWARDS CONVOCATION

All classes will be dismissed Friday, May 20, at 3:50 p.m. for the Spring Awards Convocation. The exercises will be held in the KRESGE AUDITORIUM.

Great speaker and musical entertainments promised in a Tuesday issue of "The Tech."