The MIT nautae face Bowdoin in their season's opener tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 in the Athletic pool. The results of an inter-squad meet held Wednesday should show that the meet with Bowdoin, which boasts strong teams in both the 440 freestyle, breast, and butterfly races, promises to be a real treat.

This year's Tech team, 23 men, is made up of 11 nautae from last year's Freemason squad, 11 returning nautae from last year's lineup, and 2 new nautae from last year's varsity squad. One of the most obvious shortcomings of the system in the past has been the football award situation.

John Kennedy asks:

How much travel is there in technical sales work?

Well, John, as the Old Man of the Sea told Sinbad the Sailor, "The quantity of travel varies with the specific situation encountered." Of course, you'll never be shipwrecked or encounter other travel problems that Sinbad did, but a man shouldn't seriously consider a career in sales work unless he really enjoys traveling.

Our sales personnel do just that, because the work itself provides so many rewards and satisfactions. It's the job itself which is interesting, not just the travel.

Those of our sales personnel who do enjoy travel also consider it a definite plus. Young Christian Students and in the Chicago Club. Because
