The GRIM AND GRISLY ADVENTURES OF NORBERT SIGAFOOS, AMERICAN

If you squawk, read no further, for today's column is not for the faint hearted.

It is a harrowing story which begins in 1946 when Norbert Sigafous, an ichthyology major from UCLA, was invited to attend a field trip with his class to Monterey Bay to study the many fish and crusnachans who make their homes in these waters.

But why tell this tale, Norbert was very interested in ichthyology, what he was interested in was television, which in 1946 was in its infancy and he said, "I've got some marvelous brand new shows for television. And I've got some marvelous ideas to sell these fabulous ideas to the networks!" Norbert continued.

"A little," said Ralph Gomez, which was no less than the truth, "I can speak a little English: two words. They were "a" and "little."

But, though, he was a good hearted man, and he gave Norbert fresh clothes, a razor, and a.charity.

"No, thank you," said Norbert to the charger, "I'm a Philip Morris man myself. Have you ever seen popular Philip Morris?

"A little," said Ralph Gomez.

"Then you know what I mean when I talk about your gorgeous, their delicately reared tobacco, their soothing, cooling, uplifting, unfruitful gentlemen's pack after pack after pack," said Norbert.

"A little," said Ralph Gomez.
