AA Elects ExecComm, Holland President; Group Will Review Field Day, Intramurals

Next year’s Athletic Association Executive Council, elected at the recent Holland ‘58, president, was named by outgoing President Bruce Blanchard at a meeting which at sixty voting. Vice-Presidents Glenn Steele ‘58 and Bob Jordan ‘59 are the other two. Directors of the Intramural Organizations are Annual Varsity Managers and Intramural Committees respectively, with Bill Putt ‘57 and Cameron Holland will take office April first while the others begin immediately.

Blanchard Cites Past Work

Speaking of the Association’s accomplishments during the past year, outgoing President Blanchard said that in the past year out on the team level, replacing a system of appointments by the AA. Executive Committees. Managers will then work their way up from assistant positions. Plans for next year’s Field Day were, said Blanchard, to put all sports on a comparable basis with regard to transportation and accommodations.

Financial Discussion

The former president mentioned that the AA probably will not be getting the attendance it should, but felt that the policy was still worth trying to put into practice. Also cited by Blanchard as a recent improvement was the fineness of the Athletic Association. The former president mentioned that the association will work on an FM license. This would enable the station if it disapproved of the station’s plan to the FCC for a report of the committee or. Rush-Approval of Administriation and station of- ficer, Roy Thorpe who will take over from the station’s Manager, said that the fu- ture educational broadcast, which we watt educational broadcast, which we would bring a new fraternity for candidates of all interests.

-Staff

Because of the Washington’s Birthday Holiday, the Tech will not be published on Friday, February 22. The next issue of The Tech will appear next Tuesday, February 24.

Cagers Break Losing Streak

Hitting an amazing 45% of their shots from the floor, the Bears broke their five game losing streak by defeating Bowdoin 71-68, at Cambridge, Mass., on Monday night. Bob Polachka ‘58 was the star of the game for the Bears as he grabbed 5 rebounds and added 21 points to share the games scoring honors with Bowdoin’s Brad Stover. Three other Tornes hit in double figures to pace the victory. The two that had only 57 points.

The home squad scored two quick baskets to take a 4-0 lead, but the Black and White then rallied for a row and went on to build up a small edge. With the Polar Bears ahead 21-18, Rockefeller took two layups to put the Engineers ahead. Although they came close, the Engineers never again tied the score. At the end of the second half the Tornes held a 34-33 lead. The Cardinal and Grey narrowed their margin to nine points during the first ten minutes of the second half, but the Bears’ offensive organization proved to be a single point. Then the Engineers began to roll on free throws as the game became a near hit. With eight minutes left they had an eight point advantage, and the opponents were able to capitalize on several Tech stray passes in the waning minutes, they

(Continued on page 104)