hand is a good example that even a non-expert can indulge in order that he may defeat the contract. The above plays the seven. South now leads a small heart to his ace.
South's king must still be protected. If South had the jack played it on the first round; since he played the seven, it is obvious that the only hope to defeat the contract is if East holds the jack stopper and since the hearts will set up with the play of the spade through South's king in time. It is never be defeated, and West is only throwing away one trick.

The novice bridge player is always amazed when he sees The jack of spades is captured by North's queen; East and since the hearts will set up with the play of the
