Arthur E. Farnham, Jr., of Tar-tony, N.C., has been appointed Assistant Track Coach at MIT. It, was announced by Athletic Director Richard L. Balch recently.

The former Springfield College trackman will assume his new duties with veteran coach Oscar Radford this month. Radford in entering his 50th year at Tech.

Farnham, 34, succeeds Arne

Eaas, who moved to Colorado this summer as head track coach of the Air Force Academy. Arnesen had been at MIT since 47.

Taking over Arnesen's old mit varsity soccer coach this Fall will be Charles Battman. A one-time diving great at Ohio State, Battman, 34, also coaches diving and freshman swimming and lacrosse at Tech.

A native of Benton, Farnham was educated at Lexington High, being graduated in 1949. He then served with the 1st Marine Division in World War II, being 17 months of service duty as a Staff Sergeant.

Although he was married and has two sons, Farnham moved to Springfield College in 1952 at the age of 26.

Again his education was interrupted. He was recalled to active duty during the Korean War at the end of his sophomore year and served at Camp Lejeune, N. C. Art began his coaching career there, handling the Camp track team in 1952.

Farnham was a cross-country and distance runner at Springfield. Upon graduation in '54, he was hired as a track-coach at Washington Irving High in Yonkers, N. Y. He had coached cross-country, wrestling and track for the past three years.
