LOCKHEED MISSILE SYSTEMS

Advanced Study Program: The Lockheed Graduate Study Council offers qualified students the opportunity to earn advanced degrees while employed in their chosen fields at Lockheed Missile Systems. Eligible students must be U.S. citizens holding B.S. or M.S. degrees in engineering, mathematics, or science applicable to missile systems research and development.

Opportunity to Advance: As greater emphasis is placed on missiles' role in our defense, our missile projects will continue to expand. Thus your opportunities to move rapidly ahead are increased.

Facilities: A multi-million dollar research and development laboratory featuring one of the West's largest computer centers and a powerful new Van de Graaf atom smasher, plus a 10,000 sq. ft. space communications laboratory are but a few of the extensive facilities at Palo Alto and Sunnyvale. Both locations are near Stanford University and less than an hour's drive from San Francisco.

Company Position: Though young as a division, Lockheed Missile Systems' contributions place it among U.S. leaders in the advancement of missile technology.

We invite you to contact your Placement Office for an interview appointment with us during our visit.

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels - a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No's" answers mean you better get on to Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco makes the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!
