The Tech

Northrop Conference calls for the coming year at last meeting. Elected president was Robert S. Sampson ’59.

Plan; Sampson in Top Post

In the two-and-a-half hour conference, held on June 5th, members of the executive committee of the Northrop Conference came to grips with the ever-present problem of the student government structure. Elected president was Robert S. Sampson ’59, who will serve on the committee through the ’60-’61 year, during which he will be a senior at Northeastern University.

Sampson’s Election

Sampson’s election was largely due to the support of the existing officers, who felt that his leadership was needed in order to maintain the current high standards of the organization. His campaign was based on the need for unity and cooperation between the various groups involved in the student government structure. Sampson’s election was seen as a step towards strengthening the Northrop Conference and improving its effectiveness in addressing the needs of the student body.

Future Plans

Sampson’s first order of business as president will be to continue the work of the previous administration. He plans to maintain the current level of activity in the organization and to work towards further improvements in the student government structure. Sampson’s goal is to make the Northrop Conference a more effective and responsive organization, capable of addressing the needs of the student body in a timely and effective manner.

---

Tuition Hike Held Certain for Fall

Corporation Decision Clear Way For Announcement of $200 Raise

The Corporation has cleared the way for a tuition raise next fall. At its annual March meeting, Monday, the body granted its executive committee the right to fix if it feels that the Institute's financial situation justifies the increase. Administration spokesmen say that the decision is a clear indication of the Corporation's belief that the Institute's financial situation justifies the increase.

Advantages of the Raise

The raise is expected to bring in an additional $2 million to the Institute, which will be used to help offset the costs of the new campus center and to improve the academic programs. The raise will also help to improve the financial situation of the Institute, which has been facing increased costs due to inflation and other factors.

---

Jordan, Humann, Edwards, Dunn Succeed in Race for Class Prefects

One of the most vigorous election campaigns in recent years came to a close last Thursday when thirty percent of the eligible voters cast their ballots for their favorite candidates. The candidates were chosen by a large majority of the students, who were asked to vote for four separate offices by order of preference. The candidates who received the highest number of votes were chosen as class prefects.

---

Fielding’s Campaign

Fielding’s campaign was based on the need for unity and cooperation between the various groups involved in the student government structure. His campaign was seen as a step towards strengthening the Northrop Conference and improving its effectiveness in addressing the needs of the student body.

---

Tuition Hike Held Certain for Fall

Corporation Decision Clear Way For Announcement of $200 Raise

The Corporation has cleared the way for a tuition raise next fall. At its annual March meeting, Monday, the body granted its executive committee the right to fix if it feels that the Institute's financial situation justifies the increase. Administration spokesmen say that the decision is a clear indication of the Corporation's belief that the Institute's financial situation justifies the increase.

Advantages of the Raise

The raise is expected to bring in an additional $2 million to the Institute, which will be used to help offset the costs of the new campus center and to improve the academic programs. The raise will also help to improve the financial situation of the Institute, which has been facing increased costs due to inflation and other factors.

---

Jordan, Humann, Edwards, Dunn Succeed in Race for Class Prefects

One of the most vigorous election campaigns in recent years came to a close last Thursday when thirty percent of the eligible voters cast their ballots for their favorite candidates. The candidates were chosen by a large majority of the students, who were asked to vote for four separate offices by order of preference. The candidates who received the highest number of votes were chosen as class prefects.

---

Fielding’s Campaign

Fielding’s campaign was based on the need for unity and cooperation between the various groups involved in the student government structure. His campaign was seen as a step towards strengthening the Northrop Conference and improving its effectiveness in addressing the needs of the student body.