Three Cars in E. Campus Smash

East Campus was rocked by a three-car collision on Memorial Drive near Ames Street at 1:15 a.m. Thursday morning. According to both observers and participants in the accident, two cars were heading west on Memorial Drive, one at an apparently excessive rate of speed, when the other inexplicably veered from the left lane to the right, cutting off the first. The first car clipped into a car parked on the curb. This car had East Campus parking sticker 104679 (New York). The MIT Security Police were unable to identify this owner at first.

The police were first called by a news reporter. Shortly, four MPDC police and three MPs arrived on the scene. The three MPs were Mrs. Mary Sherrill, her husband, and their son. They were heading west on the first car. They were able to identify this owner at first. The police were also called by a student who was heading east on the first car. They were able to identify this owner at first.
