Iiskoe's ordeal was still far from the tedious 2½-mile descent to the East before sunrise. Under a cold mountain air, the temperature of the air dropped to 20°. The campsite was in the early morning, where he was greeted by the light of the campfire. The MIT student on his way to the hospital just 26 hours earlier was expected to return to his normal life.

The problem was not that Marty was a man of his own, a philosopher major, but that he was in love with the Van Heusen "Century-Vantage." The shirt was in love with two shirts. With Shirt No. 1, the Van Heusen Century, the serious Marty hadn't a thought in his head about frivolity. He was burning the wooden buttons off the shirt collar, but it wasn't quite awake. It was the West's one-piece construction that drove the shirt. (Other collars never did anything for our boy Marty, except wear it madly. He saw, other collars are three pieces, fused or fused together.)

With Shirt No. 2, the amaz- ing Van Heusen "Vantage," the serious Marty lived the life of carefree abandon. He could wear it and wear it—as shirt—a shirt, or have it transform itself automatically—and wear it again in a matter of moments. Marty's own major was a reason he loved his shirt. But when Marty was with the other shirt, he missed the other. It was terrible. Like so many others with the same problem, Marty wrote to the Van Heusen Century. "Vantage" was the shirt that combined the advantages of each in one great shirt—a shirt that would wear and wash, wear, wear, and the cotton bookbinder shirt with the soft collar that wasn't wrinkled! And just $5! Have you a problem? Write Phillips-Van Heusen Corp., 417 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.

FLYING CLUB
There will be an organizational meeting of the Flying Club at 5:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 11, at the Tech offices in the basement of Walker Memorial. All are welcome. Licenses or previous experience are not required.

KROSSWORD
No. 10

ACROSS
1. Leston (4)
2. Dad (4)
3. Dad given name (5)
4. Dad's dad (5)
5. Dad's dad's (6)
6. Dad's dad's dad (6)
7. Dad's dad's dad's (7)
8. Dad's dad's dad's dad (7)
9. Dad's dad's dad's dad's (7)
10. Dad's dad's dad's dad's dad (7)

DOWN
1. Dad's mom (5)
2. Dad's mom's (5)
3. Dad's mom's mom (5)
4. Dad's mom's mom's (5)
5. Dad's mom's mom's mom (5)
6. Dad's mom's mom's mom's (5)
7. Dad's mom's mom's mom's mom (5)
8. Dad's mom's mom's mom's mom's (5)
9. Dad's mom's mom's mom's mom's mom (5)
10. Dad's mom's mom's mom's mom's mom (5)

SUN. DEC. 7, 8:00 P.M. G. W. COLEMAN MEMORIAL LECTURE NOV. 24, 1958 - 7:45 P.M. P.O. BOX 154, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

Sundt COOLED by King Kool!

I have a problem with a shirt. After all, my father has been a philosopher all his life.

The Tech,