Racquetmen Overcome Army, BU; Topped by Harvard, Brown Squads

Last week-end the varsity tennis team was taken to task by the Terrier team. Although the match was won by 9-0, it was felt that the Terriers were weaker than expected. The match was played in straight sets and it was thought that the Terriers had the upper hand.

On Monday a fired up Beaver team took on Army and emerged victorious, winning 7-2. The Techmen were not as sharp as the Terriers and BU, and fell to 4-6, 6-4. The Techmen won the first doubles match 3-6, 6-4, but the second doubles match was won by BU, 7-5. The third singles match was won by the Techmen, 6-3. The Techmen then teamed up with Karman '61 and Winicour. Most of the battles were won by BU and MIT defeated 6-3. Jack Klapper '61, and Bob Fields '61 swept the first four singles matches, while the first and third singles matches were lost in three sets. The freshmen were defeated 9-0 on Wednesday. The Beaver team was also defeated 9-0 on Saturday, in their first competition of the season. Jerry Adams won 6-4, 6-4, while Jim Taylor and George Eino took their doubles match in straight sets.

The MIT freshmen looked sharp. The freshmen defeated the No. 6 team in straight sets. Three sets, and then teamed up with Karman and Klapper, and Bob Fields '61 and Wixson. Most of the battles were won in two sets as the team looked sharp. Army, showing a squad stronger than the Cadets, outplayed a hard fought Beaver team on Saturday, in their first match of the season. Jerry Adams won 6-4, 6-4, while Jim Taylor and George Eino took their doubles match in straight sets.
