ly, and wholly intertwined in each other."

The housemaster will have the authority assigned to him by the Dean’s office. He will not have any authority that the Dean’s office has now. (Although that is pretty extensive.) It is expected all the same that the housemaster will become the friend and advocate of the boys.

In addition to the housemaster, there will be assigned to the house some current Platitudes and feelings that we definitely had the right man for the position. Although the "long arm of the law" will be among us now, we feel that this new limiter will serve only to enhance our privileges. Not that Dr. Goodenough is the housemaster, he will have an important part in student government and student affairs, which he did not have as faculty resident. We expect to maintain his confidence as our privileged. No, that Dr. Goodenough is the housemaster. He will be in the position of a liaison between them, with the advantage of closer and more intimate student-faculty relations.

We at Senior House know that the housemaster system is employed in many other universities of the world. This system is of enormous value for it will bring us advantages and benefits above and beyond the special advantage of the lack of aesthetic taints of the scientific school, this system will be invaluable.

The statement was made that the architects of the MIT chapel are a pretty extensive.) It is expected all the same that the housemaster will become the friend and advocate of the boys.

In addition to the housemaster, there will be assigned to the house some current Platitudes and feelings that we definitely had the right man for the position. Although the "long arm of the law" will be among us now, we feel that this new limiter will serve only to enhance our privileges. Not that Dr. Goodenough is the housemaster, he will have an important part in student government and student affairs, which he did not have as faculty resident. We expect to maintain his confidence as our privileged. No, that Dr. Goodenough is the housemaster. He will be in the position of a liaison between them, with the advantage of closer and more intimate student-faculty relations.

We at Senior House know that the housemaster system is employed in many other universities of the world. This system is of enormous value for it will bring us advantages and benefits above and beyond the special advantage of the lack of aesthetic taints of the scientific school, this system will be invaluable.

The statement was made that the architects of the MIT chapel are

The Tech

The Tech

The Tech

The Tech

The Tech